Contents of Volume 7

Number 1

John O'Connor — 1 — Editorial — 1988: Pergamon's 40th Anniversary Year

Features

Viewpoint

Germaine Shames and Gerald Glover — 5 — Service management as if culture exists

M. Palin — 7 — The role of science in higher education for catering management

Discussion Papers

Peter M. Mudie — 11 — The service industry front-line employee: an unenviable position

George Kibedi — 16 — Disquieting features in professional education for hospitality and tourism

Research Note

N. Light, P. Hudson, R. Williams, J. Barrett and J. Schafheitle — 21 — A pilot study on the use of sous-vide vacuum cooking as a production system for high quality foods in catering

Articles

Lance Wilensky and Francis Buttle — 29 — A multivariate analysis of hotel benefit bundles and choice trade-offs

J. R. Pickworth — 43 — Service delivery systems in the food service industry

Douglas Jeffrey and Nicolas J. Hubbard — 63 — Temporal dimensions and regional patterns of hotel occupancy performance in England: a time series analysis of midweek and weekend occupancy rates in 266 hotels, in 1984 and 1985

Reviews

Book Reviews — 81

Books Received — 87

Courses — 89

Calendar — 91

Software Survey Section — I

Number 2

John O'Connor — 93 — Editorial

Number 2 cont'd

Features

Viewpoint
David H. Freed — 95 — Why can't customers complain better?

Discussion Papers
Richard Teare and Gary Akehurst — 99 — Developments in open learning for the hospitality industry

Peter Jones — 104 — Quality, capacity and productivity in service industries

Research Note
Brian Slater — 113 — A study of characteristics of entrants to the hospitality industry through full-time tertiary education

Articles
Paul Slattery and Andrew Clark — 117 — Major variables in the corporate structure of hotel groups

Nan Unklesbay, Krzysztof Biedrzycki and Kenneth Unklesbay — 131 — Bentonite models of turkey rolls enable energy comparisons of electric and gas convection ovens

Eleanor Carlson and Michael Kipps — 139 — Nutrition education in catering education

Thomas P. Cullen and Jean Li Rogers — 151 — Quality and price perceptions of major hotel/motel chains for business travel: an exploratory study

Jean D. Gibbons and Mary Fish — 161 — Thailand's international tourism: successes and current challenges

Reviews

Letters to the Editor
Francis Buttle — 167 — A response by Francis Buttle to an article by Abraham Pizam and Roger Calantone

Roger J. Calantone — 168 — A reply to Francis Buttle by Roger J. Calantone

Book Review — 169

Calendar — 171

Software Survey Section — I

Number 3

John O'Connor — 173 — Editorial

Features

Discussion Papers
Alan J. Parker and William G. O'Brien — 175 — Future computer developments in the hospitality industry based upon the American experience

Number 3 cont'd

Stephen May	181	Hotel room supply in Hong Kong and Singapore — a tale of two cities
Articles
Carolyn U. Lambert and Joseph M. Lambert	187	Simple reservation policies can be harmful to profit margins
Andy Lowe	197	Small hotel survival — an inductive approach
K. Michael Haywood	225	Repeat patronage: cultivating alliances with customers
Roy C. Wood	239	Against social science?
John Edwards, Michael Kipps and James Thomson	251	British military feeding — the influence of food habits and food preferences on combat nutrition
Gillian Hayes	265	Adaptable facilities for accommodation studies in further education
D. Kirk and D. C. Gladwell	285	Adaptable kitchens for colleges of further education
Reviews
News	293
Calendar	295
Software Survey Section	I

Number 4

Special Issue: Hospitality Industry in Australia

Brian Wise	297	Editorial — Hospitality Industry in Australia
Articles
June Hamilton	299	Trends in tourism demand patterns in New Zealand: international and domestic
Annie Burfitt	321	Marketing Australia overseas — a corporate perspective
Bill Faulkner	333	Tourism demand patterns — Australia
John King	343	The tyranny of distance — domestic and international carriers changing policies, problems and solutions
Andrew N. Lamb	353	Tourism development and planning in Australia — the need for a national strategy
David Worland and Kenneth Wilson	363	Employment and labour costs in the hospitality industry: evidence from Victoria, Australia
Reviews
Book Review	379

Number 4 cont'd

News	381
Calendar	383
Software Survey Section	I
Title Page, Volume Contents, Author and Key Word Indexes, Volume 7, 1988	i